

RADAR'09 EXHIBITION

The RADAR'09 exhibition is the opportunity for the suppliers to show their products and know-how; for the local bodies to invite regional companies involved in the embedded systems; for everybody to start profitable contacts.

This unique international event will bring together more than 300 participants: directors, managers, heads of department, engineers, researchers and technicians. Representatives from universities and research centres, as well as journalists, will also attend. An exceptional line-up of guests and speakers will be present for the occasion.

The Exhibition and conference areas are located under the same roof allowing attendees to visit booths from October 13th to October 15th, 2008. Breaks, lunches and a welcome cocktail will be held within the exhibition area.
